

Touch-up paint

Description

Touch-up paint for a sheet metal roof - what is it for?

During assembly work or transport, minor damage to the paint coating in the form of scratches or abrasions may occur on sheet metal. In order to fill and protect such defects in the finishing layer, they must be spot-coated with an appropriate touch-up paint in a colour that matches the colour of the covering.

Touch-up paint - fast and effective

Touch-up paint is used to protect minor scratches and abrasions of organic coatings. The agent is available in all colors matched to the colors of the metal roof tiles available in our offer. The capacity of the product packaging is 200 ml.

The touch-up paint is an element of the touch-up kit, which also includes touch-up stores and a brush for applying the paint. The product is characterized by very easy application. Correct application of paint protects damaged areas from corrosion.
